Myth Mixer

1. Use the Internet to do a survey of school websites.

What information have they given about the school?

What impression do you get of the school from the information and the way the website has been designed?

What could they have done better?

Which parts of the websites that you looked at did you enjoy the most and why?

2. Collate information about your school which you think if other people had the chance to see would give them a positive impression of your school.

Think about how the information you have collected on your school could be presented on a website.

What would you write?

What pictures would you include?

Think about what you found from looking at other school websites remember what worked well and what didn't.

Produce a draft of your ideas for a possible school website.

3. Use ICT to produce a page from your website draft.
