Making Changes in Your School

Task 1

A School Newspaper could be a method of keeping students and parents aware of changes within the school or provide a forum for discussing the need for change. Use the following tasks to help you produce a front page for your own newspaper.

a) Discuss what sort of content and format this newspaper might have.

For example, what regular features might it have that would be useful for students and parents?

b) Decide on an issue or an event that has happened within your school. Draft this out as the front page article for the newspaper

c) Plan and draft the layout of the front page. Decide on a name for the newspaper and remember to add this to your front page. Look at some sample newspapers for ideas on how you could lay yours out.

d) Produce the front page using ICT.

School life can produce moments, which may make changes to your point of view or how you feel about something.

Write a poem, which expresses a feeling of change within you.

It could be a moment when you feel you have achieved something or perhaps a failure, which helps you understand something that you are able to move on from.
